Grandma was born Sept 9, 1886 in Carbon County. Her mother was an immigrant from Scotland.

Grandma Winnie always had white (Snowy) hair. In looking at pictures of her ~~years~~ she was very white and very pretty.

Grandma stood 4' 11" tall. I always thought it was a great achievement to be able to wear her high heels. About the time I was 10, I towered over Grandma. I was 5' 1" - My dad quickly let me know that this was not a great achievement.

Grandma was the ward organist in Church almost all of my childhood. She was very active in Relief Society and Primary. She always had time to teach a child how to tie a shoe, a loaf of bread or how to make fruit was in season.

Grandma's House was the place every kid wanted to be - there was never anything more important than singing a song or taking a ride up Huntington Canyon.

Grandma was very frugal. Cautious about spending more than necessary for any item that she stood in need of.

Her friends were Della McNeill Synthie Thordesen, Jean McLarry & Rebecca Colson and Elizabeth Burgess.

All of these ladies stopped by Grandma & Grandpa's house on Sunday afternoons.

Grandma was a diabetic from the time she was about 40. There was always a Butter scotch dish in her apron pocket.

I never remember Grandma in anything other than dresses, heels & garters - When Grandpa would take her out over on Cedar Mt. I check on us cowboys. She never wore anything but a dress & heels. The only time the apron came off was when she went to church.

Grandma had 6 kids to her (children)
Maynard, Fred and my Dad Harry Clark.
From those four boys she has 11 Grandchildren

Grandma & Grandpa lived in the little white house in Oakland -

There was always a warm fire a piece of bacon & toast for all of us & no matter what time of day.

After Grandpa passed away Grandpa gave me Grandma's book books and a couple of her aprons. and several of the beautiful dresses that she crocheted. An almost lost art

Grandma's house was always spotless
she washed hundreds of tables washed twice a year -

So this day, I carry on the lessons of Love & Friendship she bestowed on me & my family.

Ira Maynard Alford

Born May 19, 1896.

Grandpa was the picture of a full blown Cowboy. He taught us that we are stewards of the land and guardians of the animals. There were always a sixth sense in Grandpa. He always knew what was wrong with an animal some times before the animal did.

Grandpa served his Country Honorably in France & was a Cavalier that he believed in with all his heart.

He worked in the Coal mines and he bought the Family Farm which we still own today.

He was an excellent Neighbor & Friend. He always knew that if you needed some aid in your corner he was right there.

In looking back at Grandpa's life He makes me Proud knowing that no matter what you were loved. He made no demands.

On you, He just loved you because -

Grandpa was a barber for most every one in Cleveland at one time or another.

The friends I remember most were Cle Johnson Lawrence Tharleton and Douglas Mc Mullin.

I really thought I had accomplished a lot when I could make coffee strong enough to suit Grandpa's Cowboy disposition

I stand out Heavily Father
For Raising me with such Awesome Grandparents
