Enoch Ephraim Dodge

Born: 3 September 1838
Birthplace: Caldwell, Missouri, USA
Died: 16 February 1916, Huntington, Emery, Utah
Buried: Huntington City Cemetery

Enoch Ephraim Dodge was born 3 September 1838, in Caldwell Missouri. He was the fifteenth child born into the Dodge family. Eight children died before their first birthday, only seven matured to adulthood; of those seven Enoch is the youngest.

Enoch's father is Erastus Dodge, born 10 May 1793, in Jefferson, New York, USA, to George and Sally Dodge. Enoch's mother is Melissa Morgan Dodge born 28 October 1798, Jefferson, New York, USA, to Nathaniel Towner Morgan and Mary Wheeler. Erastus and Melissa were married 16 August 1818, in Jefferson, New York, USA. Erastus died 8 August 1843, Nauvoo, Hancock, Illinois, USA. Melissa died 10 December 1845, Nauvoo, Hancock, Illinois, they are both buried in the Old Nauvoo Cemetery.

Erastus and Melissa were baptized in 1832; their entrance into the church was dramatic. Melissa, who had been blind for thirteen years, received a blessing from the prophet's father, Joseph Smith Sr. and was healed of blindness. Elder Warren Parish healed their son Augustus' crippled left elbow instantaneously as well.

In 1838, the year Enoch was born; life was turbulent for the saints in Caldwell County. Life for Erastus and Melissa was an intense struggle and they stood with those who were willing to sacrifice all for their beliefs. In October 1838 at the surrender of Far West, Enoch's father Erastus and older brother Augustus were jailed for ten days. Once reunited, the Dodges were driven out of Missouri in the dead of winter and suffered much.

Melissa recounts in a letter to her brother, William T. Morgan; "We were driven out by cruel mobs onto the prairie in February, for nothing but the religion of Jesus Christ". The Dodge family crossed the Mississippi river to Adams County, Illinois, where the family lived until they moved to Nauvoo. In Nauvoo, they resided four blocks from the prophet, Joseph Smith.

Enoch's oldest brother Seth was a mason on the Nauvoo temple. The rest of the family assisted in the construction of the temple and the Masonic hall as well.

Enoch's father died when he was five years old, and his Mother passed away when he was seven. Life must have been difficult for the Dodge children after the death of their parents. However, the siblings obviously had a very strong bond. Enoch's oldest brother Seth and wife Lovina were responsible in a large way for keeping the Dodge children true to the gospel and bringing them or providing ways for them to make the journey west.

As a young boy, I imagine Enoch had a happy childhood, regardless of the turmoil surrounding the saints at the time. I imagine he sang and danced a jig, ate Johnnycake and mush, learned to hunt wild game and other skills that would someday help him become one of the bravest of men in his new home, the rugged Utah Territory.

Enoch recounts in the "Young Woman's Journal". "I was personally acquainted with the prophet Joseph Smith, and I know that he was a good man in every respect. I can bear testimony that he was a Prophet of God and that he was ordained and set apart by the hand of God to come and do the great and mighty work which he did. I know that he was what he claimed to be. I also know that this is the true Church of God, which has come down to us by the great work of Joseph Smith, the prophet.

I have heard him preach many times and he was truly a great speaker. Everybody felt and recognized the great power and influence he possessed and every saint who knew him loved him, and would have been willing to lay down his own life for him if it had been necessary. I have seen him run jump and pull sticks many times, and he was always winner.
He has played ball with other boys many times and when they had played a reasonable amount of time he would say; well I must go to my work." He would go and all the boys would stop playing and go home as he did. This showed his great influence.
He was a dear friend of my father's, and came to our house many times. We lived about four blocks apart. I was about fifteen at Joseph's death. The last time I saw him was the night before he was taken to prison for the last time.
I have lived to see some results of his great work, and hope I will be worthy to dwell with him in the world to come." Enoch E. Dodge

After arriving in the Great Salt Lake, Enoch lived in Davis County, Salt Lake City and Lehi, before settling in Southern Utah, and eventually Huntington. According to early records, it appears that Enoch lived with his sister Mary Margaret Jacobs and her family until he reached adulthood.

Enoch married Harriet Elizabeth Young about 1859. Harriet was born in1843 to William Alma Young and Leah Holland Smith, in Camp Creek, Hancock, Illinois, USA. According to Enoch's obituary, he and Harriet were blessed with three children; there is record of only one son named William E. Dodge, born Jan 1861.

Prior to 1861, Enoch and Harriet made their home in Virgin City and Grafton, then moved to Toquerville, where the entire Dodge family Seth, Augustus, Mary Margaret, Sarah Melissa, Nathaniel and Zenos settled together with their families for a while. Augustus made Toquerville his permanent home, and still has many descendants who live there. The other Dodge siblings along with their families were sent to settle other places. Seth and Sarah went to Arizona and Mary Margaret spent her last days at Panguitch. Nathaniel moved to Glenwood, where he died in 1873. Zenos spent many years in California, moved back to Utah and spent the last years of his life in Altonah.

Enoch fought in the Blackhawk Indian War that began in 1865. It was the longest and most destructive conflict between pioneers and Native Americans in Utah's history. He was mustered in at Virgin City, 20 February 1866.

Enoch also fought the Navajo Indians in 1865. An account by Ammon M. Tenney from the "Mormon Settlement in Arizona." There were as one of the three Americans from Toquerville, the elder Tenney, the narrator, and Enoch Dodge. The last known as one of the bravest of Southern Utah pioneers. The three were surrounded by sixteen Navajos, and with backs to the wall, fought for an hour or more, finally abandoning their thirteen horses and running for better shelter. Dodge was shot through the knee cap, a wound that incapacitated him from the fight hereafter. The elder Tenney fell and broke his shoulder blade and was stunned, though he was not shot. This left the fight upon the younger Tenney, who managed to climb a twelve-foot rocky escarpment. He reached down with his rifle and dragged up his father and Dodge. The three opportunely found a little cave in which they secreted themselves until reasonably rested, hearing the Indians searching for them on the plateau above. Then, in the darkness, they made their way fifteen miles into Duncan's retreat on the Virgin River in Utah.

Enoch was one of 57 men called by President Brigham Young to the cotton mission in Washington City. He and Harriet were among the first settlers of Washington City, which was founded in 1857. Their son, ten-year-old William E. attended school in Washington City according to the school census of 1871.

Enoch and Harriet divorced 12 September 1864 in Washington City. After Harriet and Enoch went their separate ways, Harriet became the plural wife of her half sister Poly Ann's husband William Lewis Penrod. She along with another plural wife, Hannah Waggle moved with the Penrod's to Pinetop Arizona. However, Harriet and Hannah became unhappy with Poly, they said she worked them too hard, so they left the Penrod family, moving back to Utah. Hannah Waggle later married Valentine Carson, it is unknown what happened to Harriet.

Enoch married Louisa Francis Johnson, widow of Henry Johnson in 1867. Louisa Francis Clark was born in 1827 to Charles C. Clark and Charlotte Powell in Ohio, USA. It does not appear that Louisa had any children from either marriage.

Enoch moved with Louisa to Holden (originally Spring Creek) where he built a house and farmed his plot of land. His older brother Nathaniel and family also lived in Holden. Nathaniel and Duritha had a baby daughter who they named Louisa Francis Dodge, after her aunt Louisa. In the 1880 census, nineteen-year-old William E. is living with his father Enoch E. and Stepmother Louisa, in Holden, Utah. No further information has been found about William E. Dodge and the two other children of Enoch and Harriet remain a mystery.

In 1896, Enoch swapped his property in Holden with George Gull of Huntington. It was here in Huntington on their three-acre plot of farmland on the southeast end of town, that Enoch and Louisa lived out the remainder of their lives. I recently walked on Enoch's property and although there are newly built homes occupying a portion of the land, looking to the southwest gives a glimpse into the past of how un-tamed it was when Enoch and Louisa resided there, as there is nothing but sagebrush as far as the eye can see.

In Huntington, the Dodges were active in community, church and political circles. Enoch gave a speech about the history of the nation, at Huntington's twenty-fourth of July celebration in 1909. He was an election judge for Millard and Emery Counties for many years and he argued a hotly contested case in court at Fillmore in the case of Dodge vs. Johnson in 1895.

Enoch was a stonemason. He helped build many of the early homes, schools and churches in Southern Utah.

Most of the shoes worn by the early settlers were hand made and the men who made them were Enoch Dodge, William Marshall, Andrew J. Allen. Henry A. Fowler, Samuel Grange, George W. Johnson Jr., Ernest J. Grange and Samuel Knight.

Enoch had a leather bound volume of the "Times and Seasons", a paper published in Nauvoo about 1842 and 1843. He left the book to his grand niece Vella Riddle McMillan, granddaughter of his sister Mary Margaret Jacobs. Vella donated the relic to the Daughters of Utah Pioneers in 1929.

Enoch had a friend; his name was Noah T. Guymon. Guymon was also an election judge and a very prominent Mormon pioneer, who lead a group of saints across the plains after the death of wagon train leader Captain Jacob F. Secrest. Noah lived in nearby Orangeville.

Enoch died 16 February 1916, Louisa died 3 June 1916. Enoch and Louisa are buried side by side in the Huntington City Cemetery; headstones were recently placed on their graves courtesy of Huntington City.

Enoch was a great patriot, who had strong religious convictions; he was a rugged man and one of the bravest of Southern Utah Pioneers. I feel honored to write what I have diligently researched about uncle Enoch Ephraim Dodge, brother to my great grandfather Nathaniel Morgan Dodge.

Written by a great grand niece, Ellen Dodge Mallinson, 3 September 2010
Great granddaughter of Nathaniel Morgan Dodge
Granddaughter of Reuben Alexander Dodge
Daughter of George Arthur Dodge

Addendum:

Enoch was definitely born in 1838 not 1830. We know this from Dodge family records and early church records. He began using the year 1830 as his birth year around the same time he married his second wife Louisa, who was eleven years his senior.

Enoch was five years old at the time of Joseph Smith's death not fifteen as stated in The Women's Journal

After Enoch and Harriet separated, they each stated the other had died, however they were divorced instead.

I. E. Black, proprietor of the Eagle Roller Mills at Castle Dale, has bought a residence near the mill and moved his family over from Huntington the first of the week.

Andrew Nelson and T. H. Jones were in the county seat on Thursday for lime to be used in building the Presbyterian academy at Ferron. They report the building progressing nicely.

Elizabeth Catherine Moore, wife of the late Calvin W. Moore, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Bunnell at Castle Dale on Tuesday, April 6th, of general debility. She was 76 years of age.

John Olsen came home from Clear Creek this week and left later for the reservation, where he has taken up a homestead on Lake Fork near Boneta. Olsen will make his home there, proving up on his homestead.

Lewis Hitchcock, little son of Bishop Hitchcock of Clawson, has been under the care of a physician this week with an attack of blood poisoning. Some two weeks ago he had the misfortune to be thrown from his horse into a wire fence, getting a bad scratch on the back of his hand and on the wrist.

Christian G. Larsen, Jr., of Castle Dale passed away April 7, 1909, after an illness of about six weeks with Bright's disease. He was taken ill while at Green River and for about three weeks labored under difficulty, battling with the disease, not knowing the extent of his illness and when he was unable to continue with his work longer he returned home and had been in his bed until death relieved him of his suffering. Deceased was born at Spring City, December 31, 1861, and was the son of Christian G. Larsen, Sr., ex-president of Emery stake, and Maria Sorenson Larsen. He was married to Emma Jane Seeley, daughter of Orange Seely, Sr., at Salt Lake City October 4, 1883.

FERRON.

Mrs. M. J. Taylor has quit the hotel business.

F. A. Killpack has purchased a fine colt from Alex Larsen of Molen, the price being $130.

Marshal Rosenkrantz is making a big improvement on the streets by putting the politax work where it belongs.

The saloon is no more, but the drug store is in the same building which of course is a very handy thing to have.

The new Presbyterian academy being erected here is progressing rapidly under the workmanship of the Worthens.

Mrs. J. S. Stevens has gone for a visit to her sister at Ephraim and will probably visit in other Sanpete county towns before she returns.

Henry Thompson is working on a new coal road, which when completed will be very handy for Ferron people, as they can haul two loads of coal in one day if they wish to.

W. D. Shurts has gone to the reservation to commence work on his new farm. His sons, George and Ellis, are along with him. The remainder of the family expect to move out there in June.

HUNTINGTON.

Several of our people have spent the week attending conference.

Marian Guymon has returned from a twenty-eight months mission in North Carolina.

During the week a baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs Lester Collard, but lived only a few minutes

Our old folks party was a success. Nearly all the aged were there and took their equal share of visiting and eating. After lunch they retired to the hall and games were played. There were nine persons who had seen the Prophet Joseph Smith, Jane Woodward age 85 years, Ann Pulsipher age 80 years, Charles Pulsipher age 79 years, Abbey L. Guymon age 77 years, Louisa Dodge age 77 years, Elias Cox age 76 years, Mary E. Sherman age 75 years and Mary E. Westover age 74 years. All spoke of something they heard the prophet say and bore their testimony of the truthfulness of the gospel.

ORANGEVILLE

Mrs Mark Tuttle has been quite ill with grippe, but is now convalescing.

Albert Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Allen, and Miss Tressa Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Curtis of Orangeville, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday.

After a two months visit among relatives and friends in Idaho P. A. Childs returned home yesterday.

Arrangements are being made to incorporate a company and put in a system of waterworks for the town.

G. T. Olsen of Emery delivered a bunch of one thousand steers to Preston Nutter at Price this week. They were all one and two-year-olds and were as fine a bunch of steers as ever left Emery county. That such bunches of cattle can be gathered shows that there are still many cattle in these parts, although this is not now the cattle county it used to be

CLEVELAND.

No sickness, excepting bad colds.

Thursday a welcome home party was given to Daniel Johnson, who recently returned from a two years mission.

There is a demand for tie choppers at Miller Creek. Several of our local choppers have been up, but they thought the pay did not assure wages large enough.

The farewell party given to Thomas Richards, previous to his departure for a mission to Wales, was a grand success. A purse of fifty-three dollars was raised for him.

We have received an addition to our population. Abe Blood, an old time resident, but for some years at Scofield, has concluded that he can make a living on his farm which he still owns.

KINGDOM OF EMERY

CASTLE DALE, Sept 23 —Albey L Sherman, an old pioneer of the state and one of the first settlers of Huntington, passed peacefully to the great beyond last Sunday evening He had been ailing for some time and on account of his extreme age little hope for his recovery was entertained The funeral was held Wednesday in the Huntington meeting house A large number of friends were present to pay their last respects to the deceased

Miss Nora Seely returned home after a pleasant visit to Salt Lake City with her brother, William J Seely. Her sister Stella, who is also at Salt Lake City taking a millinery course, will not return before spring

All houses that were for rent seem to have been filled for the winter This fact denotes prosperity. The only trouble is that we haven't enough buildings that can be rented.

Surveyor David H Wood has returned to Castle Dale after completing his work in Rock Canyon This road will connect Emery county with Sanpete and Manti

The Young Ladies' association held their annual meeting and fruit festival last Tuesday evening The evening's entertainment began by a short, spicy program

Dr O E Coleman will attend the Utah Medical association convention to be held at Salt Lake City, October 4th and 5th Mrs Coleman will accompany him

The academy is undergoing a thorough cleaning this week prior to the opening of school October 2d James Peterson is looking after the work

Miss Edna Douglas arrived in Castle Dale yesterday from Payson She will attend the academy the coming winter.

Edward P Cox of Orangeville spent part of the week in the capital of Carbon county, on "honey" business.

M. A. Anderson and wife attended the funeral of Albey L Sherman at Huntington last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs Henry Thompson of Ferron have moved over to the county seat for the winter.

C. T Bowen will build a fine new Brick dwelling in Castle Dale this fall

A. D Dickson spent a couple of days in Ferron this week

HUNTINGTON.

HUNTINGTON, Sept. 23 —Our primary fair will be held on the 30th, commencing at 2 o'clock. An excellent program will be rendered, after which articles made by the children will be sold

Miss Annie Avery, who came here in the spring for her health and also to visit friends, will leave for her home at Rexburg, Ida., in a few days. She claims to have had a most pleasant visit and returns home in the blossom of health and spirits

Mrs Era Leonard, who has been ailing for some time, is improving slowly. As soon as she recovers sufficiently for the trip, she will go to Provo and St. Johns, Tooele county, where she can be with her daughters.

There was a certain railroad man in town last week who offered to buy any property now for sale and from what is reported he inferred that a railroad is to be built through Huntington Canyon.

The prospects for a heavy shipment of lucern seed from this place this fall is improved as harvesting advances It is not thought that frost has done much injury to the crop

The social function given at the Huntington house in honor of the departure of Miss Annie Avery was a very successful affair Many relatives and friends were in attendance

Mrs Andrew Allred is suffering from a severe attack of heart trouble She has been very low for several days and not much hope for her recovery is entertained

The public school boys and girls are doing some fine baseball work and they will no doubt give the Castle Dale boys and girls a chance to beat them

The attendance in the public school this year is not quite as heavy as last year There is at present an enrollment of three hundred students

Mr and Mrs J W Nixon, who have been visiting at St. George during the grand home coming at that place, report a good time

Mrs Mattie Anderson, a sister of J P Monson of this town, has been visiting with her brother and sister the past month

It is very likely that several of our people will attend the general conference at Salt Lake City next month

We claim that Huntington is as free from sickness at present as any town of the same size in the world

Messrs Larsen, Murray and Miller the grocerymen, are doing a good business here at this time

The alfalfa seed is damaged but little by the frost and people are cutting it as fast as possible

The boys who have been threshing out on Buffalo for several days returned Tuesday night

Louisa Dodge, who is past 83 years of age, has been ailing somewhat the last few days

The new cigarette ordinance is causing quite a sensation among the boys

ORANGEVILLE.

ORANGEVILLE, Sept 23 —John Reid, cashier of the Emery County bank, is on the sick list this week.

The bee industry is in a most thriving state. Conditions have never been so good as now One beeman reports that he gets his cash income from his industrious colonies of bees—not his farms, and says that if more farmers would thoroughly cultivate fewer acres and get more bees, they would have more money for taxes and debts

The Orangeville inventors, Cox and Graves, have nearly completed a simple device for cutting alfalfa seed and delivering it behind the machine. This will do away with the purchasing of an expensive machine specially for this purpose, as their arrangement can be attached to an ordinary mower.

The alfalfa seed crop at Orangeville will be the largest in the history of this district and will bring in several thousand dollars which will be spent for improvements and investments, as the Orangeville farmers are practically free from debt.

A family gathering met at the home of J. B Crawford to celebrate that gentleman's birthday Mr. Crawford looks hale and hearty in his declining years

Chris Davis, recently of Downieville, Cala., a stockholder in the Sovereign Mines company, reports the outlook exceedingly bright for those properties

Jerry Page is home for a few days He reports extensive improvements in the new coal camps at Hiawatha and Black Hawk

Andrew Anderson has returned from Manti to be at the bedside of his son Marion, who is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

The public school is running along smoothly The eighth grade has already organized an athletic association

Miss Genore Peterson, niece of Mr. and Mrs William Fell, has returned from a visit to Salt Lake City.

Aunt Margaret Moffitt's birthday was fittingly observed this week by her children and grandchildren

Thomas Killian the new proprietor of the Wilberg sawmill, reports having lots of lumber on hand

Mrs Emeline Sitterud has been at work in the Fell Huntington store for a few days this week.

It is certainly a shame to see so much good fruit going to waste No market, is the cry.

Mrs Rhoda Robertson received a telegram notifying her of her father's critical illness

The threshers report that the grain yield this year is of exceptionally good quality

J. K. Reid, our pioneer merchant, is visiting in Salt Lake City.

FERRON FLASHES.

FERRON, Sept. 23.—Fire threatened the home of Clarence Olsen on Thursday afternoon It burned the roof of two rooms and damaged the furniture inside to a great extent A crowd of men were close at hand threshing and were very soon at the scene The fire, it is presumed, was caused by poorly constructed flues

Timothy Herring, who has been working in Oregon for the past year, is home again. Peter Thompson is also home for a short time

Henry Thompson and family are located in Castle Dale for the winter His girls will attend the academy during the winter

Jack Frost has left us alone so far and if he stays off a few days longer crops will be out of his reach

John and Clarence Powell of Pennyside have been in town the past few days

A D Dickson and Henry Thompson have been in town on business.

Our new steam thresher has started up and is doing fine work.

Afternoon sports on square Catching rings from a pole on horseback foot and horse racing bronco riding etc also children s dance in afternoon adults dance at night All was very quiet during the day A couple of small drunks late in the evening was the means of enriching the town treasury about $8

The Sunday school preach proved quite effectual last Sunday The people seemed to be converted to the call as they flocked to the ice cream parlor almost en masse to leave their nickles in behalf of the school The committee and aids could only try to to keep the luxury in readiness and every little while the cry would be heard You will have to wait a little while Of course this was not satisfactory and and quite a number were obliged to go away without being served However it was quite a success as it made lots of work and some little money for the school after expenses were paid

Ether Staker of Lawrence was coming down the canyon with a load of lumber when the brake refused to work and let the wagon crowd down a hill and threw him off the load The wheel ran over his foot making him limp some We hope no bones were broken Any way he can bet ter ride than walk just now

Chief Forester of the Rio Grande Western Railway company and party were in town yesterday on their way up Huntington canyon to examine the different coal claims Two other parties are expected in tomorrow on the same business Let them come There are about 8 or 10 different leads already opened up ready for the inspection of capitalists and plenty more that can be

A faint sound is heard in the distance and it seems to say that a call will be issued in the near future for the Indian war veterans to meet in reunion again We are pleased to know there are still a few of the noble boys on deck

TOWNS SUBSCRIBE LIBERALLY FOR SANPETE-EMERY ROAD

That the people of Castle Dale and Orangeville are "right there with the goods" as well as the talk when it comes to boost ng for good roads and that they appreciate to the fullest degree the action of the state road commission and forest service in designating the road connecting Emery and Sanpete counties as a state highway, is easily seen upon glancing at the lists of subscriptions for the construction of the stretch of road between Orangeville and the forest boundary in Straight canyon.

Beginning the good work Saturday evening, the people of Castledale had a total of $1343.50 subscribed by Thursday noon with several parties yet to be seen, while the Orangeville committee, who did not begin work until Tuesday, had $685 on their lists at noon on Thursday with about half the town yet to be canvassed.

This work will be expended before time to go into the fields and will be applied under the direction of the forest service and the state road commission.

The movement first assumed concrete form last Saturday evening at the mass-meeting called to discuss the matter. Though few were in attendance on account of the short notice a committee, composed of Lars Christensen, S. D. Bunnell and C. E. Larsen with David S. Williams acting as secretary, soon had $313 subscribed by fifteen of those present.

This committee met with the people of Orangeville Monday afternoon at a similar meeting where a like committee of three was appointed to work with those from Castledale. J. B. Crawford, Dell Peacock and A. A. Van Buren, who were named at that meeting, met with the Castledale party and organized with C. E. Larsen and David S. Williams as joint chairman and secretary respectively. J. B. Crawford, Dell Peacock and S. D. Bunnell were named to act as right-of-way committee as some changes in the routing of the road are contemplated.

The donation work will be commenced in just a few days now and accurate checks on the time put in by each man kept so that the specially prepared receipts for labor done may be filled out properly with each man's credit. There is nothing that can help every member of a community more than good roads and the man who assists in this worthy direction is assured of appreciation.

The list of subscribers up to Thursday noon in both towns follows:

M. I. A. DAY RULES AND EVENTS

The following rules will govern all ward, district and final tryouts in M. I. A. contest work for the year 1915-16, with such additional rules as may be adopted by the board from time to time.

1. All contestants in district and finals must have been winners in ward try-outs.

2. All contestants, to be eligible, must have attended at least five regular weekly M. I. A. meetings before April 1, 1916, in the ward for which they contest; provided, that the residents of this stake temporarily absent from this stake, may enter the contest for their home ward if they have attended five regular M. I. A. meetings in wards outside this stake; provided further, that students attending schools in or out of this stake may enter the contest for their home wards if they have attended five regular meetings in the ward in which they temporarily reside; provided further, that non-residents of this stake may contest in any ward of this stake if they have attended the necessary five regular meetings in the ward for which they contest.

3. The time and place of final M. I. A. day is to be left with the Stake boards.

4. All contestants will be known by number and not by name.

5. A copy of these events must be placed in the hands of all ward presidents immediately.

6. Provide the ward presidents with a copy of time, place and events one week before the district and final try-outs.

7. All judges for ward try-outs must be provided by the ward; all judges for district and final try-outs to be provided by the stake boards.

8. All other rules governing this contest to be left with the Stake boards.

9. In all events to have 1st. 2d and 3d places; the points: 5, 3 and 1 (except as otherwise provided); the ribbons: blue, red and white.

10. All contestants must be there on time for the events for district or finals or must lose their places.

HOW WAR AFFECTS THE PRINTING BUSINESS

Eighteen months ago it would have been hard for those connected with the printing and allied industries to conceive of the effect the European war would have on the price of commodities used in the printing business.

Through the courtesy of managers of the various lines a careful comparison of present-day costs with those of a year ago has been made, and a comparison of bills of manufacturers and producers of raw materials shows some startling increases.

Every line, from metals used in composition, engraving and electrotyping, in the makeup of forms, on through the paper, ink, rollers and finally binding has borne its share of a marked advance.

Practically everything that goes into the manufacture of paper has gone up in price, the underlying causes being scarcity and high cost of raw material.

Rags have materially advanced because of the shutting off of the foreign supply, and because of the large use of domestic rags in the manufacture of powder, where to some extent they have taken the place of raw cotton. Formerly cotton rags cost 1½ to 1¾ cents; now 2¼ to 4 cents per pound.

HUNTINGTON

Wm. Baird Mathie of Huntington passed away on February 24th very suddenly. He had not been particularly ailing but was on the street nearby all the forenoon of the day before, visiting and joking as usual. During the evening of the 23d he went to bed and was aroused by a pain in his breast which continued to get worse until he passed away. It seemed relief was not to be had.

The funeral was held on the 28th, Bp. Nielson presiding. Among the speakers was Elder J. W. Nixon, an old time acquaintance and friend of the deceased. A large congregation was present. The selections by the choir were lovely as were a solo and selections by others.

Wm. B. Mathie was born June 25, 1858, in Scotland. He was babtised Mar. 31, 1866, and emigrated to Utah in his young manhood living for a short time in Tooele Co. He, with his father's family, went to St. George and lived a few years and young Mathie spent nearly three years working on the St. George temple. While there he learned the plasterer's trade. After the completion of the temple, he and Miss Catherine Louretta Truman, were married therein in 1889, after which he came to Huntington to make his home. For an avocation he followed the trade of plasterer, and stone and brick mason and many houses in Huntington are marked with his handiwork. He was always a busy man. They have had a family of 8 or 9 children and almost all of them are useful members in our ward. He held the office of seventy in the priesthood, and was always counted an active and good citizen in the ward and died as he had lived—a full believer in the principles of the gospel We understand that one of the oxen in the Salt Lake Temple was molded from a model made by Bro. Wm. B. Mathie.

Enoch E. Dodge, born in 1830 in Ohio, was acquainted with the Prophet Joseph Smith and was at Nauvoo during the mobbing of the Saints. He come to Utah in 1848, was married about 1853, and went south to Cedar City. Being of a rugged nature, he always took the rough side of life and spent his early days on the frontier—pioneering new towns. He was in Iron county during the Walker war and had a whole lot to do with Indian life. By his first marriage they were blest with three children.

His wife died sometime during the 60's and sometime after he married Mrs. Louisa Johnston, a widow of Henry Johnston of the Mormon battalian. By the last marriage there were no children.

During the latter 70's they came from the south to Holden in Millard county where they lived a few years. Then he swapped homes with Geo. Gull and came to Huntington where he lived until his death on February 17, 1916, at the age of 86 years. He leaves his aged wife and one niece here. Many friends were present to show their last respects at the funeral. The speakers were J. W. Nixon, M E. Johnson, and J. A. McKee and all had something good to offer for the aged brother. His good wife still lingers with us. She was three years his senior and attended the 1st celebration of the 24th in Utah and has some of her costumes she wore at that time.

Mr. Aaron Johnson, dramatic instructor, assisted by the Huntington Dramatic Co., will present George M. Baker's romantic play, "Above the Clouds" in Huntington and nearby towns in the near future. The cast of characters follows:

Alfred Thorpe, (city nabob) ..... Jos. Mendenhall
Hester Thorne, (wronged wife) ..... Kathryn Billig
Grace Ingalls ..... Senate Johnson
Lucretia (so romantic) ... Flora Johnson
Susy Gaylord ..... Norma Johnson
Howard Gaylord ..... A. E. Leonard
Nat Naylor, (poet) ..... D. A. Fowler
Titris Turtle, (gourmand) Leon Leonard
Amos Gaylord ..... L. W. Johnson
Curtis Chipman ..... Clarence Johnson
Phil. Ringold, (hermit) . Aaron Johnson

KINGDOM OF EMERY

CASTLE DALE, Sept 23 —Albey L Sherman, an old pioneer of the state and one of the first settlers of Huntington, passed peacefully to the great beyond last Sunday evening He had been ailing for some time and on account of his extreme age little hope for his recovery was entertained The funeral was held Wednesday in the Huntington meeting house A large number of friends were present to pay their last respects to the deceased

Miss Nora Seely returned home after a pleasant visit to Salt Lake City with her brother, William J Seely. Her sister Stella, who is also at Salt Lake City taking a millinery course, will not return before spring

All houses that were for rent seem to have been filled for the winter This fact denotes prosperity. The only trouble is that we haven't enough buildings that can be rented.

Surveyor David H Wood has returned to Castle Dale after completing his work in Rock Canyon This road will connect Emery county with Sanpete and Manti

The Young Ladies' association held their annual meeting and fruit festival last Tuesday evening The evening's entertainment began by a short, spicy program

Dr O E Coleman will attend the Utah Medical association convention to be held at Salt Lake City, October 4th and 5th Mrs Coleman will accompany him

The academy is undergoing a thorough cleaning this week prior to the opening of school October 2d James Peterson is looking after the work

Miss Edna Douglas arrived in Castle Dale yesterday from Payson She will attend the academy the coming winter.

Edward P Cox of Orangeville spent part of the week in the capital of Carbon county, on "honey" business.

M. A. Anderson and wife attended the funeral of Albey L Sherman at Huntington last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs Henry Thompson of Ferron have moved over to the county seat for the winter.

C. T Bowen will build a fine new Brick dwelling in Castle Dale this fall

A. D Dickson spent a couple of days in Ferron this week

HUNTINGTON.

HUNTINGTON, Sept. 23 —Our primary fair will be held on the 30th, commencing at 2 o'clock. An excellent program will be rendered, after which articles made by the children will be sold

Miss Annie Avery, who came here in the spring for her health and also to visit friends, will leave for her home at Rexburg, Ida., in a few days. She claims to have had a most pleasant visit and returns home in the blossom of health and spirits

Mrs Era Leonard, who has been ailing for some time, is improving slowly. As soon as she recovers sufficiently for the trip, she will go to Provo and St. Johns, Tooele county, where she can be with her daughters.

There was a certain railroad man in town last week who offered to buy any property now for sale and from what is reported he inferred that a railroad is to be built through Huntington Canyon.

The prospects for a heavy shipment of lucern seed from this place this fall is improved as harvesting advances It is not thought that frost has done much injury to the crop

The social function given at the Huntington house in honor of the departure of Miss Annie Avery was a very successful affair Many relatives and friends were in attendance

Mrs Andrew Allred is suffering from a severe attack of heart trouble She has been very low for several days and not much hope for her recovery is entertained

The public school boys and girls are doing some fine baseball work and they will no doubt give the Castle Dale boys and girls a chance to beat them

The attendance in the public school this year is not quite as heavy as last year There is at present an enrollment of three hundred students

Mr and Mrs J W Nixon, who have been visiting at St. George during the grand home coming at that place, report a good time

Mrs Mattie Anderson, a sister of J P Monson of this town, has been visiting with her brother and sister the past month

It is very likely that several of our people will attend the general conference at Salt Lake City next month

We claim that Huntington is as free from sickness at present as any town of the same size in the world

Messrs Larsen, Murray and Miller the grocerymen, are doing a good business here at this time

The alfalfa seed is damaged but little by the frost and people are cutting it as fast as possible

The boys who have been threshing out on Buffalo for several days returned Tuesday night

Louisa Dodge, who is past 83 years of age, has been ailing somewhat the last few days

The new cigarette ordinance is causing quite a sensation among the boys

ORANGEVILLE.

ORANGEVILLE, Sept 23 —John Reid, cashier of the Emery County bank, is on the sick list this week.

The bee industry is in a most thriving state. Conditions have never been so good as now One beeman reports that he gets his cash income from his industrious colonies of bees—not his farms, and says that if more farmers would thoroughly cultivate fewer acres and get more bees, they would have more money for taxes and debts

The Orangeville inventors, Cox and Graves, have nearly completed a simple device for cutting alfalfa seed and delivering it behind the machine. This will do away with the purchasing of an expensive machine specially for this purpose, as their arrangement can be attached to an ordinary mower.

The alfalfa seed crop at Orangeville will be the largest in the history of this district and will bring in several thousand dollars which will be spent for improvements and investments, as the Orangeville farmers are practically free from debt.

A family gathering met at the home of J. B Crawford to celebrate that gentleman's birthday Mr. Crawford looks hale and hearty in his declining years

Chris Davis, recently of Downieville, Cala., a stockholder in the Sovereign Mines company, reports the outlook exceedingly bright for those properties

Jerry Page is home for a few days He reports extensive improvements in the new coal camps at Hiawatha and Black Hawk

Andrew Anderson has returned from Manti to be at the bedside of his son Marion, who is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

The public school is running along smoothly The eighth grade has already organized an athletic association

Miss Genore Peterson, niece of Mr. and Mrs William Fell, has returned from a visit to Salt Lake City.

Aunt Margaret Moffitt's birthday was fittingly observed this week by her children and grandchildren

Thomas Killian the new proprietor of the Wilberg sawmill, reports having lots of lumber on hand

Mrs Emeline Sitterud has been at work in the Fell Huntington store for a few days this week.

It is certainly a shame to see so much good fruit going to waste No market, is the cry.

Mrs Rhoda Robertson received a telegram notifying her of her father's critical illness

The threshers report that the grain yield this year is of exceptionally good quality

J. K. Reid, our pioneer merchant, is visiting in Salt Lake City.

FERRON FLASHES.

FERRON, Sept. 23.—Fire threatened the home of Clarence Olsen on Thursday afternoon It burned the roof of two rooms and damaged the furniture inside to a great extent A crowd of men were close at hand threshing and were very soon at the scene The fire, it is presumed, was caused by poorly constructed flues

Timothy Herring, who has been working in Oregon for the past year, is home again. Peter Thompson is also home for a short time

Henry Thompson and family are located in Castle Dale for the winter His girls will attend the academy during the winter

Jack Frost has left us alone so far and if he stays off a few days longer crops will be out of his reach

John and Clarence Powell of Pennyside have been in town the past few days

A D Dickson and Henry Thompson have been in town on business.

Our new steam thresher has started up and is doing fine work.

Mrs. Fred Dahling, who has had typhoid fever, is around again.

John C Duncan and wife have typhoid fever

HUNTINGTON.

A N Leonard of Huntington and Miss Georgena Spilsbury of Toquerville Washington county were married in the St George Temple on Wednesday of last week They arrived in Huntington this week and on next Wednesday evening will give a reception and dance to their friends The couple have the good wishes of our people Bye the bye their honeymoon will be cut short as Bro Leonard expects to leave on a mission the latter part of next month

At day break on the 24th artificial cannons were booming and Old Glory was seen floating in the breeze It appears that our color general on the eve before had been somewhat sluggish and the effects of the heat or something else had aroused him so that he thought it was sunrise and hoisted the flag and Lo and behold when the brass band came out to play her up she was there in all her glory So they blew a few sweet strains to her honor and then made a tour thru the principal streets of the town

At 9 o clock the people gathered in the grove on the square At 10 a procession formed with about 20 vehicles representing the business of the town and Utah as it was and is handcarts clowns and monkeys etc Marshal J E Johnson directing They made a short drive out on main street then cut a circuit up on the public square that the people might see we were going to have a new jail They then retired to the meeting house and listened to the following programme—

Singing by choir
Prayer by chaplain D H Leonard
Singing patriotic glee choir
Early Utah history Bp P Johnson
Duish song Antone Neilsen
Early history in Utah Enoch Dodge

Reading Utah s First 24th Celebration D C Woodward
Singing the choir
Prayer by chaplain D H Leonard

Afternoon sports on square Catching rings from a pole on horseback foot and horse racing bronco riding etc also children s dance in afternoon adults dance at night All was very quiet during the day A couple of small drunks late in the evening was the means of enriching the town treasury about $8

The Sunday school preach proved quite effectual last Sunday The people seemed to be converted to the call as they flocked to the ice cream parlor almost en masse to leave their nickles in behalf of the school The committee and aids could only try to to keep the luxury in readiness and every little while the cry would be heard You will have to wait a little while Of course this was not satisfactory and and quite a number were obliged to go away without being served However it was quite a success as it made lots of work and some little money for the school after expenses were paid

Ether Staker of Lawrence was coming down the canyon with a load of lumber when the brake refused to work and let the wagon crowd down a hill and threw him off the load The wheel ran over his foot making him limp some We hope no bones were broken Any way he can bet ter ride than walk just now

Chief Forester of the Rio Grande Western Railway company and party were in town yesterday on their way up Huntington canyon to examine the different coal claims Two other parties are expected in tomorrow on the same business Let them come There are about 8 or 10 different leads already opened up ready for the inspection of capitalists and plenty more that can be

A faint sound is heard in the distance and it seems to say that a call will be issued in the near future for the Indian war veterans to meet in reunion again We are pleased to know there are still a few of the noble boys on deck

That the people of Castle Dale and Orangeville are "right there with the goods" as well as the talk when it comes to boost ng for good roads and that they appreciate to the fullest degree the action of the state road commission and forest service in designating the road connecting Emery and Sanpete counties as a state highway, is easily seen upon glancing at the lists of subscriptions for the construction of the stretch of road between Orangeville and the forest boundary in Straight canyon.

Beginning the good work Saturday evening, the people of Castledale had a total of $1343.50 subscribed by Thursday noon with several parties yet to be seen, while the Orangeville committee, who did not begin work until Tuesday, had $685 on their lists at noon on Thursday with about half the town yet to be canvassed.

This work will be expended before time to go into the fields and will be applied under the direction of the forest service and the state road commission.

The movement first assumed concrete form last Saturday evening at the mass-meeting called to discuss the matter. Though few were in attendance on account of the short notice a committee, composed of Lars Christensen, S. D. Bunnell and C. E. Larsen with David S. Williams acting as secretary, soon had $313 subscribed by fifteen of those present.

This committee met with the people of Orangeville Monday afternoon at a similar meeting where a like committee of three was appointed to work with those from Castledale. J. B. Crawford, Dell Peacock and A. A. Van Buren, who were named at that meeting, met with the Castledale party and organized with C. E. Larsen and David S. Williams as joint chairman and secretary respectively. J. B. Crawford, Dell Peacock and S. D. Bunnell were named to act as right-of-way committee as some changes in the routing of the road are contemplated.

The donation work will be commenced in just a few days now and accurate checks on the time put in by each man kept so that the specially prepared receipts for labor done may be filled out properly with each man's credit. There is nothing that can help every member of a community more than good roads and the man who assists in this worthy direction is assured of appreciation.

The list of subscribers up to Thursday noon in both towns follows:

HOW WAR AFFECTS THE PRINTING BUSINESS

Eighteen months ago it would have been hard for those connected with the printing and allied industries to conceive of the effect the European war would have on the price of commodities used in the printing business.

Through the courtesy of managers of the various lines a careful comparison of present-day costs with those of a year ago has been made, and a comparison of bills of manufacturers and producers of raw materials shows some startling increases.

Every line, from metals used in composition, engraving and electrotyping, in the makeup of forms, on through the paper, ink, rollers and finally binding has borne its share of a marked advance.

Practically everything that goes into the manufacture of paper has gone up in price, the underlying causes being scarcity and high cost of raw material.

Rags have materially advanced because of the shutting off of the foreign supply, and because of the large use of domestic rags in the manufacture of powder, where to some extent they have taken the place of raw cotton. Formerly cotton rags cost 1½ to 1¾ cents; now 2¼ to 4 cents per pound.

HUNTINGTON

Wm. Baird Mathie of Huntington passed away on February 24th very suddenly. He had not been particularly ailing but was on the street nearby all the forenoon of the day before, visiting and joking as usual. During the evening of the 23d he went to bed and was aroused by a pain in his breast which continued to get worse until he passed away. It seemed relief was not to be had.

The funeral was held on the 28th, Bp. Nielson presiding. Among the speakers was Elder J. W. Nixon, an old time acquaintance and friend of the deceased. A large congregation was present. The selections by the choir were lovely as were a solo and selections by others.

Wm. B. Mathie was born June 25, 1858, in Scotland. He was babtised Mar. 31, 1866, and emigrated to Utah in his young manhood living for a short time in Tooele Co. He, with his father's family, went to St. George and lived a few years and young Mathie spent nearly three years working on the St. George temple. While there he learned the plasterer's trade. After the completion of the temple, he and Miss Catherine Louretta Truman, were married therein in 1889, after which he came to Huntington to make his home. For an avocation he followed the trade of plasterer, and stone and brick mason and many houses in Huntington are marked with his handiwork. He was always a busy man. They have had a family of 8 or 9 children and almost all of them are useful members in our ward. He held the office of seventy in the priesthood, and was always counted an active and good citizen in the ward and died as he had lived—a full believer in the principles of the gospel We understand that one of the oxen in the Salt Lake Temple was molded from a model made by Bro. Wm. B. Mathie.

Enoch E. Dodge, born in 1830 in Ohio, was acquainted with the Prophet Joseph Smith and was at Nauvoo during the mobbing of the Saints. He come to Utah in 1848, was married about 1853, and went south to Cedar City. Being of a rugged nature, he always took the rough side of life and spent his early days on the frontier—pioneering new towns. He was in Iron county during the Walker war and had a whole lot to do with Indian life. By his first marriage they were blest with three children.

His wife died sometime during the 60's and sometime after he married Mrs. Louisa Johnston, a widow of Henry Johnston of the Mormon battalian. By the last marriage there were no children.

During the latter 70's they came from the south to Holden in Millard county where they lived a few years. Then he swapped homes with Geo. Gull and came to Huntington where he lived until his death on February 17, 1916, at the age of 86 years. He leaves his aged wife and one niece here. Many friends were present to show their last respects at the funeral. The speakers were J. W. Nixon, M E. Johnson, and J. A. McKee and all had something good to offer for the aged brother. His good wife still lingers with us. She was three years his senior and attended the 1st celebration of the 24th in Utah and has some of her costumes she wore at that time.

Mr. Aaron Johnson, dramatic instructor, assisted by the Huntington Dramatic Co., will present George M. Baker's romantic play, "Above the Clouds" in Huntington and nearby towns in the near future. The cast of characters follows:

Alfred Thorpe, (city nabob) ..... Jos. Mendenhall

FERRON

Miss Jennie Lemmon has returned from Black Hawk were she has spent the past few weeks with her sister.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bernsen and Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Ricard, leaving a boy and girl at the respective homes. All concerned are doing nicely.

Miss Pernellie Thompson entertained the Ladies Sewing Club last Thursday evening.

Miss Emily Fleming, principal of Presbyterian school, who has spent the past few years here, leaves Thursday for an extended trip east. She has been given a leave of absence for six months in appreciation of her faithful work in Utah. The townspeople appreciate her efforts put forth in the school and sincerely hope she will return next year. Miss Delia O'Connor is taking her place.

The Ferron basketball team played the Emery boys last Friday, winning the game by a good majority. There was a large crowd over from Emery and everyone seemed to have a jolly time. Come again, boys, we like your warp.

Miss Myrtle Duncan left this week for Salt Lake City.

CLEVELAND

Mrs. J. H. Otterstrom, who was operated on for appendicitis a short time ago, has been in a very serious condition since but is now slightly improved.

Mrs. Davis returned home last week from an extended trip at Salt Lake and Nephi. While away she also underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Jack Hearde of the Hearde Overland show company, is visiting friends in Cleveland and attending to business, her husband having died recently in California.

Mrs. O. R. Rasmussen has recently returned from Sunnyside where she has been visiting with her children.

Ray Christensen has returned from Monticello where he has been employed for some time.

The Relief Society are preparing for an excellent time on their Annual day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bawden are entertaining a brand new girl. All concerned doing nicely.

Bishop Anton Neilson and Elder L. W. Johnson of Huntington were here as home missionaries last Sunday.

A big Leap year ball was given at the Davis hall Tuesday night.
