

Catherine Wells Casutt

I married Larry Casutt fifty-seven years ago. We have four children, twenty grandchildren (eight of whom are currently married), and twelve great grandchildren.

We have lived in Tremonton, Utah; Las Vegas, Nevada; Bountiful, Utah; Taylorsville, Utah; Cleveland, Utah; Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin (while we were serving an LDS mission); and now live in Queen Creek, Arizona.

We love to camp and travel. We only lack a few northeastern states that we have not been to for us to have been in all fifty states. We have been on several cruises and have traveled abroad to England, Wales, Switzerland, Germany, France, as well as Mexico.

I have belonged to the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers for many years and have served as the camp director and county president. I served as president of the friends of the library. I taught cake decorating classes, aerobic classes, and have been a substitute teacher for grammar school as well as junior high and high school.

Professionally, I was a secretary and a temp worker until I was married.
